

High-Profile: PEOPLE

CPP Hires Project Manager

Boston, MA - Corporate Project Partners (CPP) announced the addition of project manager Mike Banville. Banville is a project manager with professional experience in both project construction and management. He recently directed a multi-phase renovation of a Liberty Mutual operations facility affecting roughly 350 employees without interruption to daily production activities. Prior to joining CPP, Banville managed relocations for Pro-Mutual and provided on-site construction support for Dependable Construction.