BOSTON, Mass. – December 14, 2007 – Corporate Project Partners (CPP), a provider of facilities planning, project management and relocation services, announces the addition of project managers Mike Banville and Colleen Dennehey.

Responding to recent growth and significant new projects—including several biotech laboratory relocations and project management for Liberty Mutual, Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts and Caritas Christi Health Care—CPP has added

Mike and Colleen to its growing staff. Mike and Colleen will be responsible for overseeing projects including restacks and relocation operations.

“Mike and Colleen are a great fit with the CPP team,” said CPP Partner Christine Mosholder. “Their experience and energy are a tremendous asset to CPP, and will benefit our clients throughout complex real estate projects and relocations.”

Mike Banville is a project manager who thrives in a fast-paced environment and brings a unique perspective to CPP, with professional experience in both project construction and management. Recently, Mike directed a multi phase renovation of a Liberty Mutual operations facility affecting roughly 350 employees without interruption to daily production activities. Additionally, Mike supervised mission critical scientist and lab relocations for Genzyme as they occupied a state-of-the-art science center. Prior to joining CPP, Mike managed relocations for Pro-Mutual and provided on-site construction support for Dependable Construction.

Colleen’s exceptional interpersonal and communication skills coupled with her strong financial background prove valuable as a project manager. Colleen managed an eight phase relocation of employees and equipment in New Hampshire for Liberty Mutual – including extensive coordination employees, technology and telephone vendors, movers and furniture installers – and coordinated the employee open house for the new 350,000 sf facility. Prior to joining CPP, Colleen was a mortgage sales assistant at both Metrocities Mortgage and Wells Fargo Home Mortgage. She holds a degree in Business Administration from San Diego City College.
